

A large, stylized number '2013' is the central focus. The digits are white with a thick black outline and a yellow fill. The number is set against a black background. Behind the number, there are several horizontal and vertical stripes in yellow and white. The stripes are of varying widths and are arranged in a way that creates a sense of depth and movement. The overall design is bold and graphic.

WE MUST PROTECT THIS HOUSE

Beating the Odds

Gemar Mills
Principal

Allison DeV Vaughn
Vice-Principal

Four years ago as we walked these hallways as freshmen the odds were stacked against us. We can all recall the consistent false alarm fire drills and low test scores that poisoned our building. Two principals in two years, conditions only worsened and after a few months into our sophomore year it was highly recommended that our school be closed. The future of Malcolm X Shabazz High School was becoming nonexistent and many of us were wondering; "where do we go from here?" However, despite the adversity stacked against us, we have grown stronger since those troubled times. Beating the odds is what makes our class unique. The Alumni Association and other community leaders fought tirelessly in support of Mr. Mills, our Principal, who mobilized the faculty, staff, students and parents to create an improved environment that has allowed us to reclaim the "bulldog pride". Since this transformation the class of 2013's future is more promising than ever. The greatest examples of outstanding leadership has been demonstrated for us by an administrative team that has encouraged us to believe in ourselves as they have believed in us.

by Building Character

Mr. Mills, one of the youngest Principals we will ever know, constantly encouraged us to protect this house. Ms. DeVaughn, the matriarch of the administrative team, provided outstanding academic guidance. Mr. Ellis, the Dean of Discipline, who insisted that we accept responsibility for our own actions, and Mrs. Baskerville, who got to know each of us by name and made sure that all standardized testing requirements were met.

Let us not forget our teachers, guidance counselors, attendance counselors, coaches and advisors that have consistently encouraged us to exhibit resilience through all adversity, so that we could transform into models of success. You have taught us that the rarest diamonds are formed by the greatest pressures.

All of you will remain prominent figures in our lives. You will serve as our motivation to believe in ourselves, continue to build character and to become contributing members of society.

The class of 2013 promises to use the foundations that were laid before us to keep the bulldog legacy alive. Not only will we protect this house but we will also protect the brand far beyond these walls.

Class of 2013 Valedictorian

Saskieya Anderson

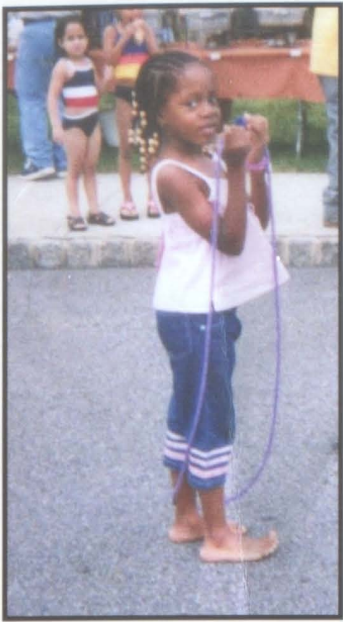

It has been a very long journey for me. I began as a young, average girl in Guyana who had no clue what she wanted to do with her life; I am now a beautiful, sophisticated, intelligent Valedictorian of the class of 2013, who is ready to change the world. This would have never occurred if it weren't for all the positive individuals that surrounded me every day. They helped shape and mold me into the individual I am today. Most of you may wonder why I am not talking about all my academic accomplishments since academics had a major role in attaining this position, but to be honest, it's not all about the books, it's all about the life lessons and values you learn. I would like to extend my gratitude to my fellow classmates as well as the faculty and staff, for helping me blossom into the person I've become. Thank you to Ms. Maloney for always being there whenever I needed a shoulder to lean on; Mr. Murray for always encouraging me to always shoot for the stars and for always believing in me; Mr. Vaughn, for putting up with my countless visits to the Guidance Counselor's Office; Mr. Cordero and Ferriero for all the pep talk and advice, Mr. Bond and Ms. DeJesus for working with my schedule and never giving up on me; and finally Mr. Mills for being a great leader, working so hard to provide me as well as my classmates with an abundance of opportunities and for creating a safe school that I can be proud of. Most of all, I would like to extend my sincere appreciation to my family, especially my mom, Wonetta Sinclair, dad, Mitchell Anderson and grandmother, Carmen Rhobe, for supporting me and raising me with the morals and values I live by. Without my family, I would not have learned the life lessons I've learned or know the things I know today. I would not have been able to experience the wonderful joys of high school. You have helped me through almost everything, and for that I will be forever grateful to be the Valedictorian and to share my story. I would like to thank God for blessing me with such accomplishments. Without him I would not be here today representing my class and school as a successful and proud Lady Bulldog. Thank you and congratulations class of 2013 !

2013

I would like to take the time to thank God because he is truly the reason why I am still here to walk across this stage healthy and with an amazing family. To my loving mother I want to say THANK YOU! You have shown me how to survive in this crazy world and demonstrated to me what it means to be a strong black woman. Whenever I needed someone to talk to you were always there. You are my support team, advisor, rock, best friend and I am more than happy to say you are my mother! To my supportive father, I know these past four years have not been easy but like a true man you have stuck by my side even when I was wrong. I am truly blessed to have two parents who support and inspire my drive to succeed. To my principal Mr. Mills, my loving coaches, teachers and administrators who have supported me over these years...I could not have done it without you. I will forever be a mighty Bulldog.

2013 BULLDOG PRIDE

The spirit of the Bulldog this year has manifested into the Class of 2013. We are proud to represent Malcolm X Shabazz High School to its fullest. Our black and gold pride will forever remain a sign of school spirit. Black, shows elegance and power. Gold, the worlds most precious and rarest metal symbolizes prosperity and wealth. These two colors together show that from the darkest of rock makes the most beautiful metals. Witness the pride and bark of the bulldog. Its not size of the dog in the fight, its the size of the fight in the dog!

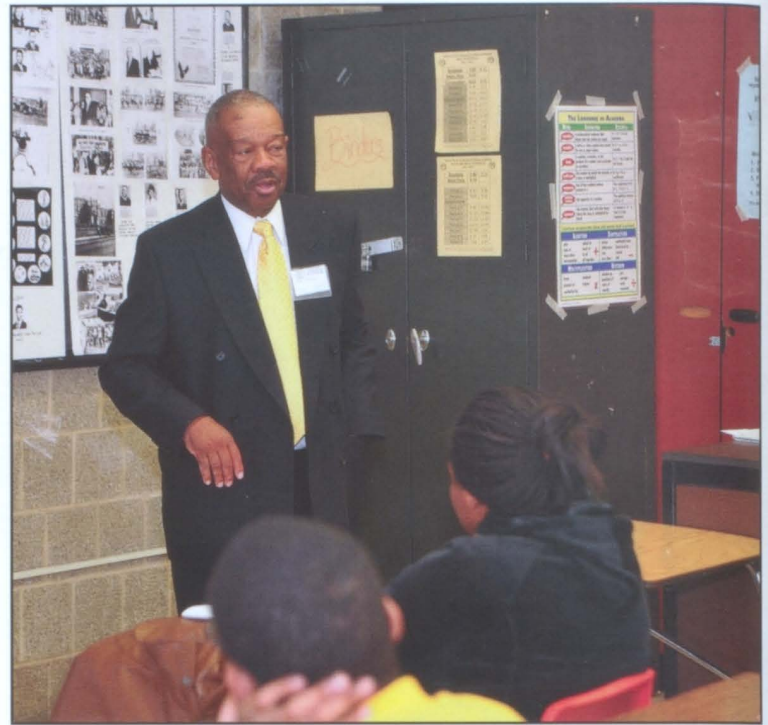

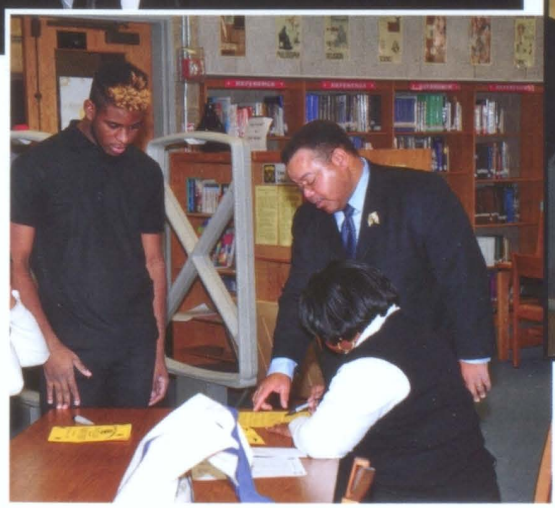

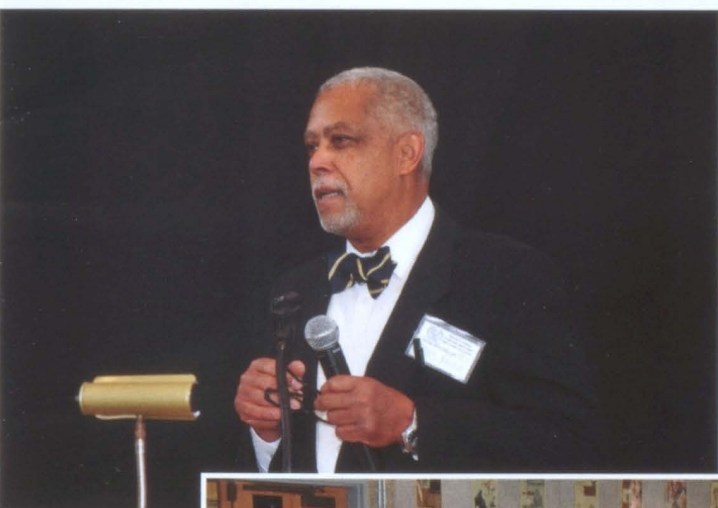

ALUMNI DAY

Every year there is a day set aside to honor and remember every person who calls Malcolm X. Shabazz (South Side) their Alma Mata ...our Alumni. Over the years we have watched successful Alumni return to Shabazz to share their "back in the day" stories with us.

Their present day successes motivates us to want to become just as successful, and aspire to one day see our names forever hung high on the Malcolm X. Shabazz Wall of Fame.

CONGRATULATIONS CLASS OF 2013

To the Class of 2013,

You have witnessed the election and re-election of the first African American President, the appointment of the first Latina supreme court judge and many of you will be the first in your families to go to college. The odds are no longer stacked against you. Take full advantage of the foundations that have been laid for you. Use every opportunity to claim your rightful place in society. With a positive attitude, you can conquer the many challenges that await you. Lastly, always remember that knowledge is power and education is necessary for success.

ADMINISTRATION

At the beginning of the 2011 – 2012 school year the future of Malcolm X Shabazz was bleak. There were rumors spreading throughout the community that Malcolm X Shabazz High School would be closed. It was your junior year and my first year as the principal. My primary goal at that time was to make sure your next two years would be in a school that was safe, a school that you can always be proud of and a school staffed with teachers prepared to teach challenging and exciting lessons. I knew by achieving these three goals your HSPA scores would improve and your opportunities as post graduate would be unlimited. By default your class was chosen to do the unthinkable which was to "Beat the HSPA". Your success on this test would serve as a testament to your unwavering spirit, commitment, and perseverance no matter how challenging the task.

It was the month of May when we received the results and my cell phone went off around 12:40 a.m. followed by an email from Ms. Baskerville. I remember clicking the button to open and read the email, and smiling as if it was a small accomplishment. However, I was so excited in my head I was getting my "patty cake" going. This class had not only beaten the odds of improving HSPA scores, they also out performed all other high schools in the district by obtaining the highest literacy gains for the 2011 – 12 school year.

You may not understand the significance of this triumph today, however as you embark on your next journey you will begin to realize that you possess something that most people lack. What you have, money cannot buy. It's called "Drive" and it cannot be purchased at WalMart, or any of the HOT SHOPS at the Jersey Garden Mall. Always embrace and nurture the drive you possess. As you continue to have success in life, many people you encounter will quit trying. It has been said that "Getting ahead in a difficult situation requires avid faith in yourself. This is why some people with mediocre talent, but great inner drive, go so much further than people with superior talent."

Gemar Mills
Principal

I am extremely proud of each and every one of you. Always remember that you represent the excellence that Malcolm X Shabazz High School fought for and you are responsible for protecting the "House" that "WE" have built. Let the blood that flows through your veins be Black and Gold and your hearts, bodies, and minds be filled with bulldog soul.

WE COULDN'T DO IT

Mr. Vega,

I want to personally thank you for all you have done for me this past year. There were moments when you saw me at my weakest point and you did everything in your power to keep me focused on school. Without you, I wouldn't have accomplished half the things I did this year. I want to also thank you for keeping it real. You tell it like it is. We need more people like you in this society.

Mariyah Calda

Ms. Bateman & Ms. Wellington,

Wow! Where do I begin? I would not be the outgoing, articulate young lady that I am today without your influences and encouragement. Before I joined Speech & Debate, I was just a quiet and timid young girl, but you both have shown me that, not only do I have a mind, but a voice that can project to others. The guidance you given me has literally molded me into who I am today. I will forever carry on these traits. you ladies have shown me. When I go on a stage and represent Malcolm X Shabazz, it is because of you two phenomenal women! High school for me would not have been the same without t you and for that I thank you. I love you!!

Ma-Lisa <3

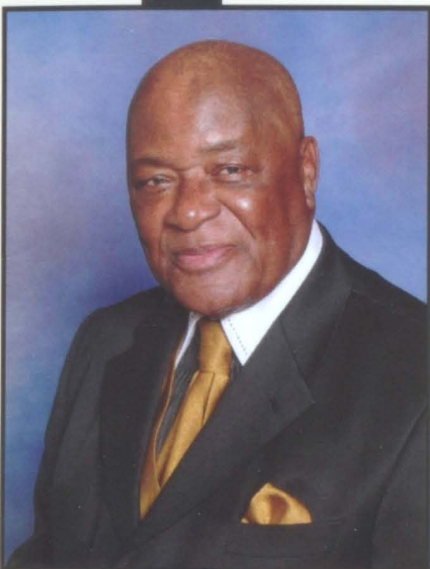

WITHOUT YOU

Mr. Mills, I couldn't have done it without you. My freshman year was very discouraging. We met on bad terms. Who knew that you would become my biggest role model. Your encouragement helped me to believe in myself and realize that college is in my future. Thank you for inspiring me to be a better person.

Mr. Williams,

(affectionately known as grandpa by the Malcolm X Shabazz Band)

Thank you for inspiring me to be a good captain. You encouraged me to appreciate music and to perform with grace and pride. You are a role model to me and the Malcolm X Shabazz Band. I will forever cherish your legacy.

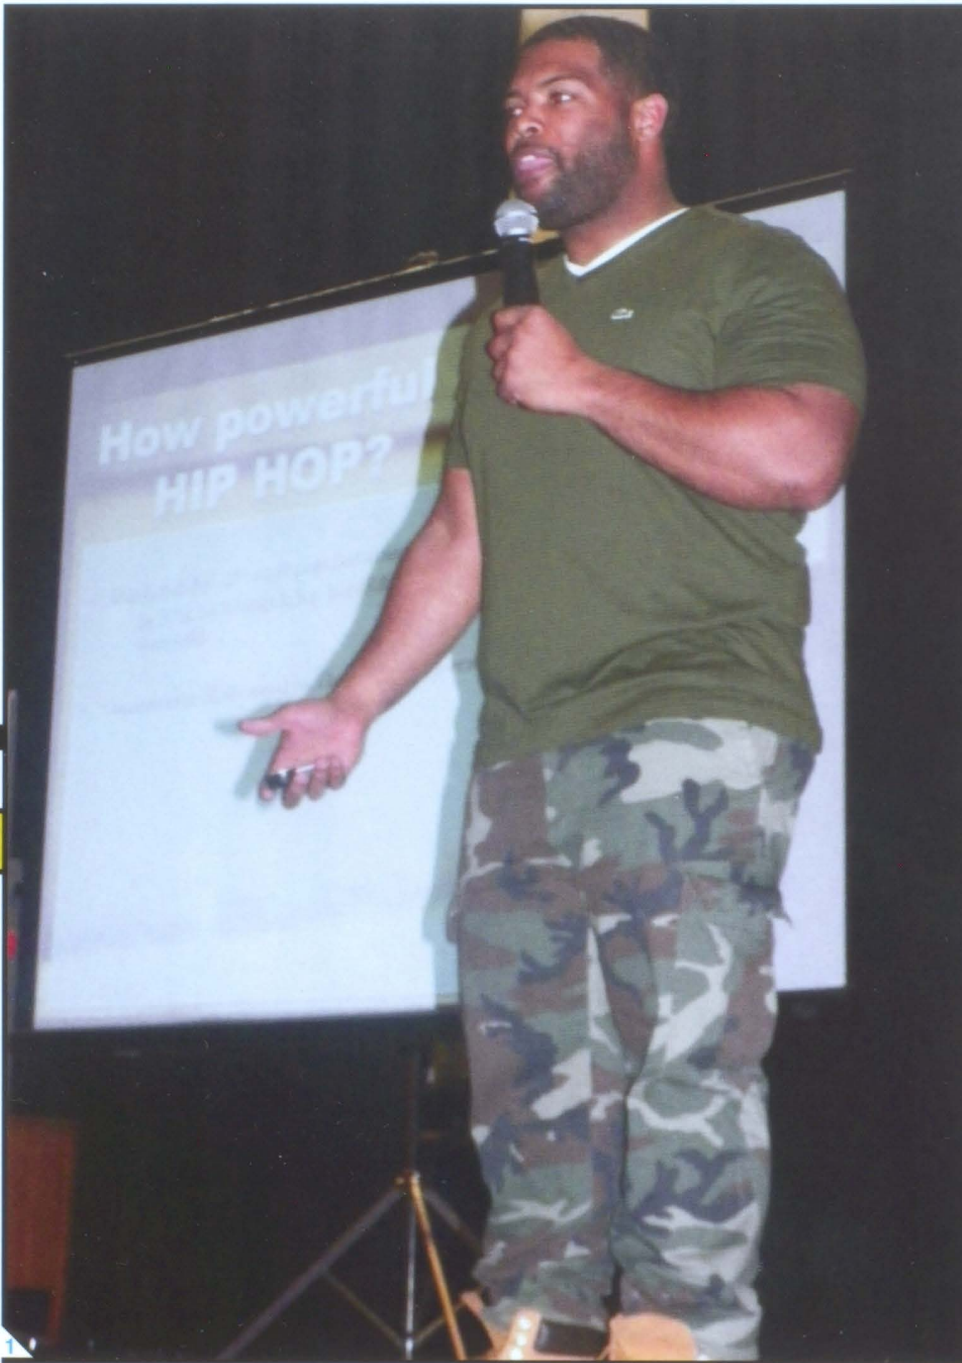

Lavon Veal

Mr. Muhammad,

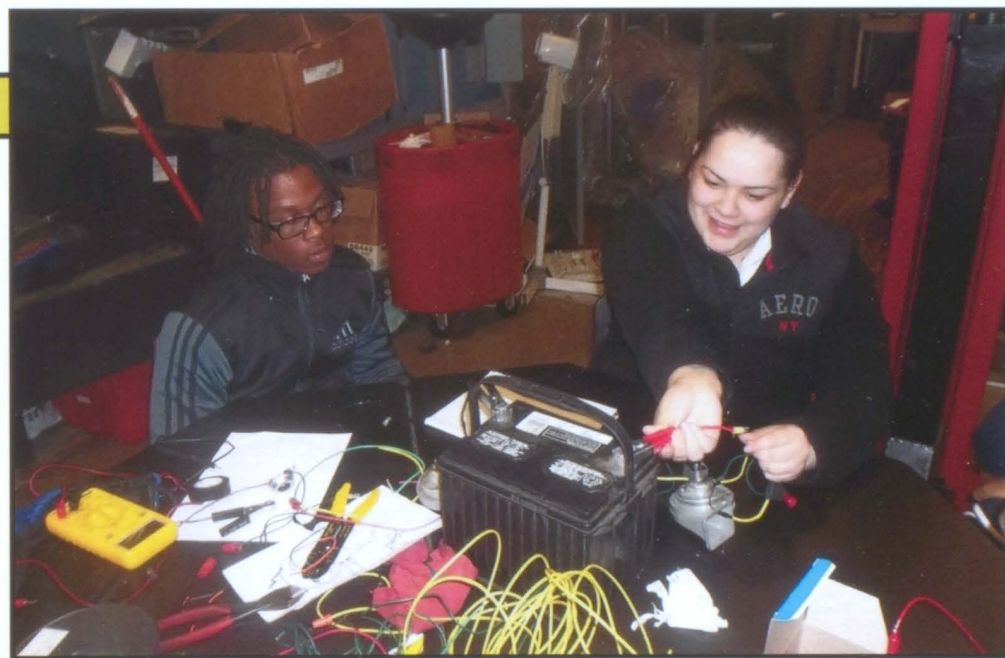

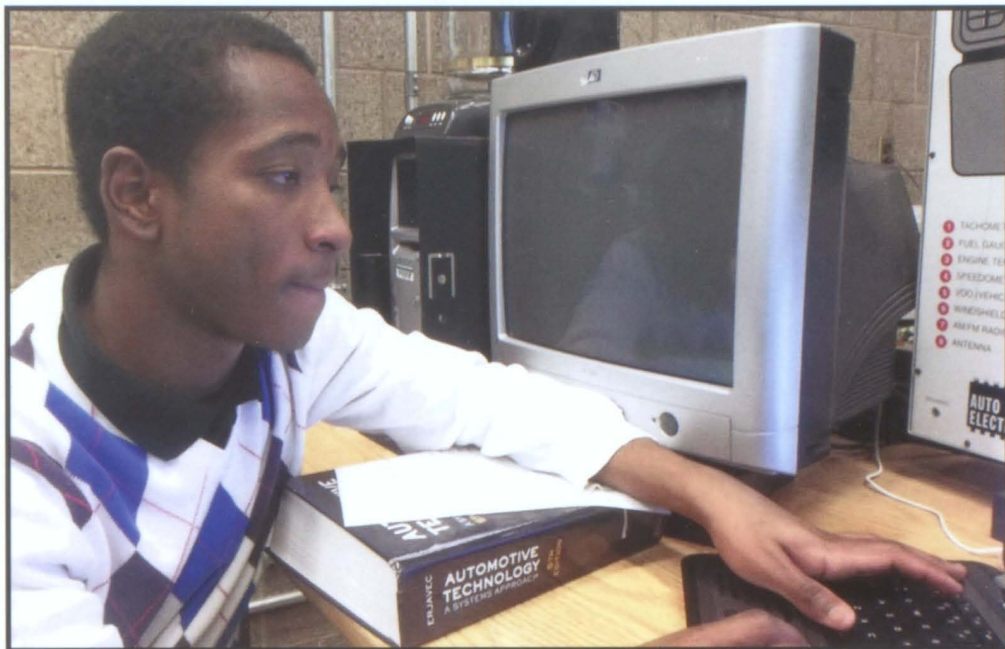

Not only have you been a teacher, but also a mentor and father figure to me. Our conversations in class were always eye opening. You exposed me to a unique range of subjects, and gave me a whole new perspective of the outside world. When it came to the college application process, you had faith in me, even when I did not believe in myself. I will never forget the books you gave me about finance. They have served as an inspiration for me to pursue finance as my major in college. I have truly cherished these last two years with you as my mentor and teacher. I am in a great place in my life because of you. Thanks for pushing me and giving me self confidence.

Coach of the Year

30 years of coaching

On behalf of the Class of 2013
we dedicate this yearbook to Coach Vanessa Watson.

Coach Vanessa Watson is an Alumnus of Malcolm X Shabazz High School (class of 1976). She has dedicated 30 years of service to education and coaching Newark's youth. As head coach for Malcolm X Shabazz Lady bulldogs, she holds a career record of 687-110. This has been a phenomenal year for our Lady Bulldogs. They brought home not one, not two, but a whopping SIX championship titles to the halls of Malcolm X Shabazz High School. The girls basketball team is a force not to be reckoned with. There is something that inspires each of these ladies...and that is Coach Vanessa Watson. She has dedicated her life to not only show these young women the rules of the game, but the rules of life. She has pushed the Lady Bulldogs to do well in class resulting in many of them receiving full scholarships to colleges and even being drafted by the WNBA. WNBA player Matee Ajavon, who plays for the Washington Mystics, is an example of coach Watson's inspiration to women in sports. Thank you for thirty years of service to Malcolm X Shabazz High School.
